

Death Toll In Hospital Tragedy Rises To 74

Stricken City Begins To Bury The Dead

Effingham, Ill., April 6—(AP)—The toll of dead and missing in Tuesday's holocaust at St. Anthony's hospital rose to at least 74 today with 69 known dead.

The Catholic chancery office, which governs the hospital, reported that 62 of 69 bodies recovered from the blackened ruins remained unclaimed and five others listed as missing are believed buried in the wreckage.

This grief-stricken city, meanwhile, began burying the dead. Tiny white coffins bearing the charred remains of some of the 13 babies who perished in the fire were the first.

Proclaim Memorial

Mayor H. B. Rinehart proclaimed a memorial holiday for tomorrow, when most funerals will be held. A solemn requiem high mass was sung today at St. Anthony's Church, near the hospital, in a Roman Catholic memorial service.

Anguished relatives, red-eyed from weeping, tried to comfort each other. Marylene Reis, 17, explained: "You don't let go because you know you're not alone."

Her father, Frank Reis, hospital engineer, died in a futile attempt to save her mother, Maria. The mother jumped from a third floor window before her husband reached her room. She is in critical condition at a Matton, Ill., hospital with a fractured skull. Her head hit a concrete curb.

Priests and nuns worked today near rescue crews bringing more bodies out of the blackened ruins. The nuns cleared the slightly-damaged operating room and said it will be available for use tomorrow. The nuns will care for the sick and injured in private homes.

Seek Cause Of Fire

Fire inspectors poked through the debris in search of the cause of the fire, but deputy state fire marshal said it still is a question.

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and the state's public health director, Dr. Roland Cross, came by airplane to consult with civic leaders on how to set up temporary hospital facilities and build a new institution.

The governor expressed "heartfelt sympathy" and praised "the valor and heroism shown in this ghastly disaster."

New tales of heroism were disclosed. Rescue workers related that Mrs. Shirley Clements, a young nurse from Granite City, Ill., died saving patients on the last night she had planned to work.

She was to have retired as a nurse Tuesday to become a housewife. After the fire broke out, she led a number of patients to safety, then leaped from a window. She suffered a broken hip and severe burns on almost her entire body.

Shortly before she died she refused first aid and cried: "Don't worry about me. Get the others out. I won't live long."

Six other hospital staff members died in the inferno. Among them were two nuns, a priest, and three nurses.

Believes Prostitute Ring In Chicago Still In Operation

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—Police Capt. Thomas Harrison said today he believes a "$10,000-a-year" prostitute hooking agency still operates despite a raid on its headquarters last night.

Captain Harrison, who led the raid, said the nerve center was a bare six by twelve foot room at 640 N. Clark street, equipped only with a table, two telephones and two chairs.

The officers seized in the place, Mrs. Norma Wire, 24, a pretty brunette, who, Harrison said, was the agency's telephone operator. Also obtained were two leather-bound notebooks which Harrison said contained the names of 2,500 men, many from foreign countries.

A bondsman appeared at the East Chicago avenue police station shortly after the woman was brought in, but was told she was held without charge. Today, Attorney Max Lurie appeared before Municipal Judge James J. McDermott and demanded her release on a habeas corpus writ.

Judge McDermott gave police until 11 a.m. (CST) Thursday to book her or release her.

DIES OF INJURIES

Danville, Ill., April 6—(AP)—Gordon Huckstadt, 16, a Danville high school junior, died last night in St. Elizabeth's hospital four hours after his motor scooter and an automobile collided.

Barry Hunt, 17, a passenger on the scooter, received a leg fracture. L. B. Downing, Danville, driver of the automobile, was not held.

U. S. Military Urged To Share With Europe

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) Of The Senate Armed Services Committee Is Anxious To Bring About A "Complete Team Atmosphere"

Washington, April 6—(AP)—America's military leaders urged the nation today to share its armed might and forces with western Europe and thus help forestall a war which secretary of the army Royall said might last 20 years—"perhaps more."

While declaring that war is not imminent nor unavoidable, top officials of the Army, Navy and Air Force laid heavy stress on the need for unified preparation now as they joined in the nationwide observance of Army day.

They spoke out on the eve of a new attempt to weld this country's three armed services into a better fighting team through smoother operations of the unification system. This effort is to be made under direction of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at closed door sessions with the joint chiefs of staff starting tomorrow at Key West, Fla.

President Truman himself pointed up the new unity drive in telling chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the senate armed services committee he is anxious to bring about a "complete team atmosphere."

Mr. Truman talked with tydings at the White House before the senate committee opened hearings on the President's plan to give the secretary of defense specific authority to enforce the unification program.

Later in the day, the President reviewed an hour-long parade of army forces along Constitution avenue. Joining the marching troops were Marine, Navy and Air Force units in what observers said was a symbolic farewell to the separate observances of special days for the three armed services.

Henceforth, they said, there will be only a national security day on which all the military branches will be honored. This would do away with Navy Day, on October 27 and Air Force day on September 18.

Although today was set aside for special tribute to the men of the Army, speakers put greater emphasis on present and future needs for team strategy and operations—both here and abroad.

That theme was set forth last night by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, in calling for action now to strengthen European members of the Atlantic pact. He told a New York audience:

"I know of no other expenditure that can produce greater security at a more reasonable cost than investment in a timely defense of the borders of western Europe."

Rankin put congress "on notice" to this effect at a committee session marked by flaring tempers, and by accusations that "pressure tactics" and "threats" were being brought against committee members in behalf of a pension bill.

Saying he wants to speed up hearings on his new pension bill to pay $72 a month to all World War I veterans at age 65, Rankin observed: "I know there is a definite movement to force veterans under Social Security."

Senate Group Asks H. Cross Be Made Member Of I.C.C.

Washington, April 6—(AP)—The senate commerce committee today unanimously recommended senate approval of Hugh W. Cross, former lieutenant governor of Illinois, as a member of the interstate commerce commission.

The committee also unanimously approved Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney as undersecretary of commerce.

By a 10 to 1 vote, the committee also recommended the confirmation of Thomas C. Blaisdell, Jr., as assistant secretary of commerce.

Whitney, who testified briefly before the committee today, is now assistant secretary of the air force. Blaisdell has been acting as assistant secretary of commerce. The name of the senator who opposed his confirmation was not made public.

The committee also approved unanimously the nominations of Oswald Ryan for re-appointment to the civil aeronautics board.

The four appointments now go to the senate along with the nomination of Hawthorne Arey of Bensington, Md., as a member of the board of directors of the government's export-import bank. Arey's nomination was approved today by the senate banking committee.

65 BARKS PER MINUTE

Barnet, Eng., April 6—(AP)—Mrs. Julian Hewett was fined 20 pounds ($8) today on her neighbor's complaint that her dog was a nuisance. The neighbor, Albert Fitzherbert, testified he clocked the dog at 65 barks a minute.

State Dept. Will Not Answer Soviet Charges

Washington, April 6—(AP)—In icy words, the State Department said today it isn't going to reply formally to Russia's protests against the North Atlantic pact.

"It has been made clear," the department said in a statement, "that the Soviet government's interpretation of both the objectives and provisions of the pact is erroneous."

The Kremlin sent notes around to the member countries complaining that the treaty is directed against the Soviet government, that it is openly aggressive in character, and that it violates the United Nations charter and other international agreements.

Of those claims, the State Department said:

Illinois Solons Asked To Ban Daylight Time

Springfield, Ill., April 6—(AP)—A ban on daylight savings time throughout the state was proposed today in the Illinois legislature.

The bill was submitted by 18 downstate legislators who contend the fast time causes great inconvenience to farmers. Chicago and about 500 other cities and villages operate on daylight time during the summer months.

Under the measure, all local daylight time ordinances would be voided. Business places and public offices would be required to operate on central standard time.

Two years ago, a similar bill passed the Senate but was killed by the House after Mayor Martin H. Kenney of Chicago and other city officials objected to it.

Among other developments, the assembly received Governor Stevenson's plan for lengthening the terms of Illinois commerce commission members and removing them from the direct control of the governor.

The legislation calls for increasing the terms from two to six years on a staggered basis and boosting salaries to $12,000 a year. The chairman now receives $8,000 and the other members $7,500.

Not more than three of the five commissioners could belong to the same political party under Stevenson's proposal.

Stevenson's House leader announced that vote on the state constitutional convention issue will be held in the lower chamber next Wednesday.

It was supposed to have been acted on yesterday but too many House members were absent. Approval of the House and Senate is needed to hold a 1950 referendum on calling a convention to revise the state constitution.

Will Give France Some Veto Powers In West Germany

Washington, April 6—(AP)—The United States and Britain are reported to have agreed to give France a limited veto over certain actions of a proposed new western German government.

Secretary of State Acheson discussed a plan laying down this principle today with British foreign secretary Bevin and French foreign minister Schuman.

Their three-power decision, which is not yet spelled out in detail, would mark at least a partial diplomatic victory for France. It would extend French influence into what is now the British-American zones of Germany.

At the same time, however, it would give the United States and Britain a voice in overseeing activity in the French zone.

The agreement would fall short, however, of meeting French demands for absolute three-power veto rights over the decisions of any future German government as the price for joining the French zone to the already fused British-American zones of Germany.

$150,000 Shortage At Bank Blamed On President's Son

Madison, Wis., April 6—(AP)—Officials of the Bank of Madison, whose former assistant cashier is sought on a federal charge of making false entries, announced today shortages of $150,000.

The assistant cashier, John K. Gill, 45, was named in a complaint signed by his father, Norman P. Gill, president of the bank. The warrant was issued April 1 by U. S. Attorney Charles Cashin.

The extent of the bank's loss was disclosed in a statement signed by the elder Gill. He said the loss was "exceeded by acts of John K. Gill" but he added that it was covered by fidelity bonds amounting to $250,000. His son has been missing since March 21.

Cashin said John K. Gill, president of the Madison Credit Bureau, was charged with making a false entry in the bank's general ledger, knowing it to be false and intending to defraud.

Educators Ask U.S. To Define What A Subversive Act Is

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—A group of the nation's educators today approved a resolution asking federal and state governments to "clarify beyond any reasonable doubt" what constitutes a subversive act.

The resolution was approved by the general resolutions committee of the national conference on higher education.

It will be presented for final action at 4:30 p.m. (EST) Thursday before the annual meeting of the department of higher education of the national education association.

The resolution stated in part: "It is the responsibility of federal and state legislative bodies to clarify beyond any reasonable doubt by appropriate legislation, acts or associations of subversion and to provide for prosecution and penalty under the laws of our country, without prejudice to any profession or other group."

The text declared "the (teaching) profession can and will prevent the use of academic freedom as a cloak for activities which are not consistent with public trust inherent in higher education."

Truman Says No More A-Bombs To Be Used

Demos Win All Fights To Change ERP Aid Bill

Washington, April 6—(AP)—Senate administration leaders won all tests today in their fight against major changes in the $5,580,000,000 bill for European recovery, but failed to get to a final vote.

Sharply rebuffed for keeping the Senate in session late at night, Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) recessed the chamber at 6:08 p.m.

But once again, he called the senators back at 11 a.m. tomorrow—an hour early—to resume the debate which has been dragging on for 11 days. Nearly 20 amendments still await action.

In seven hours today, the Senate rejected a Republican move to toss the whole question of how many billions in American aid should be spent in fiscal 1950 into the hands of the Senate Appropriations committee.

The bill they have been debating since March 23 merely puts a ceiling on the money to be appropriated later.

The lawmakers adopted and administration-approved amendment by Senator Brewster (R-Me) to deny American aid to any nation singled out for punishment by the United Nations for violation of the UN charter. This was aimed at the

States He Agreed To Spy In Japan For Soviet Union

Ottawa, April 6—(AP)—A surprise American witness in the Sam Carr trial testified today he had agreed in 1940 to spy in Japan for Russia.

The witness was M. M. Krieger, a young Los Angeles optometrist who told the court he had been assigned "conspiratorial work" in Japan by Ignacy Samuel Witczak.

The government charges that Witczak is the man for whom Carr obtained a false Canadian passport in 1945. Carr, 43, a former communist organizer in Canada, is charged with conspiring with Russian embassy officials to issue a forged passport for Witczak, then operating in Los Angeles.

Carr's case is the 19th spy trial to come out of the sensational disclosures in 1946 that a Soviet espionage ring was operating in Canada. He was arrested in New York in January.

Cripps Lays Heavy Budget Before Tax Burdened Britain

London, April 6—(AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps laid another heavy budget before Britain's sorely taxed citizens today.

A disappointed left-wing laborite compared the chancellor of the exchequer's financial proposals to the "guns before butter" slogan of Nazi Hermann Goerring.

"Five years after the war we have the chancellor talking about guns before cheese," said laborite Emrys Hughes.

The reaction of Londoners questioned at random was an indignant "ouch." But veteran reporters said it was a "brave" budget speech politically.

Cripps offered only tiny pittance of tax relief. Mainly the concessions were a penny (1/23 cents) off a pint of beer and doubling the allowances industry can take for wear and tear on plants and machinery.

He raised the prices of four basic foods so the government can trim its huge subsidies for food production. The foods are meat, cheese, butter and margarine—all rationed.

will to fight for the rights of free men.

"We have joined the Atlantic community and pledged ourselves to secure the peace and prevent aggression, by force if necessary," he said.

He recalled that the Sixth Army, ordered Cavalry (U. S. constabulary) which he reviewed was a lightly armed and highly mobile unit six months ago. Today, he said, it is a heavily armored and still highly mobile unit.

"They do not know that this is not the only one of these we have," he said afterward at a reception. He did not elaborate on "they."

The two-hour review told a story of a steady increase in American combat power in Europe in the past year. A year ago there were no Army day observances of consequence in Europe. But since then the armed forces have been bolstered by jet planes, anti-aircraft weapons, artillery, tanks and vehicles.

Clay Tells Army U.S. Pledged To Keep Peace

Grafenwoehr, Germany, April 6—(AP)—The biggest concentration of American troops and armor in Germany since the end of the war passed in review before Gen. Lucius D. Clay here today.

Clay said in an address that the American army is pledged to keep the peace, by force if necessary.

The American military governor spoke at an Army Day review of 5,000 skilled soldiers, 200 tanks, 3,000 armored vehicles and many planes at this training center 25 miles from the Soviet zone.

States Pact Makes Them Unnecessary

Washington, April 6—(AP) President Truman expressed belief tonight it will never be necessary to drop another atom bomb. But he said he would not hesitate to use the bomb again if necessary for the welfare of the democracies.

The president said he believed the signing of the Atlantic defense pact had placed the United States in a position "where we will never have to make that decision again."

"I hope and pray that that will never be necessary."

He spoke off the cuff at a buffet dinner attended by more than 100 freshmen senators and congressmen.

The president told of making the decision to drop atomic bombs on Japanese cities in 1945 "on the basis of the welfare of not only this country but of our enemy country."

"Now I believe that we are in a position where we will never have to make that decision again, but if it has to be made for the welfare of the United States, and the democracies of the world are at stake, I wouldn't hesitate to make it again."

He said the United States' only objective "is peace and the welfare of every nation and every race in the world."

Although the chief executive was invited to the buffet dinner at the Carlton hotel as part of Democratic party strategy toward greater unanimity on the domestic front, his own off-the-cuff talk laid heavy emphasis on the world situation.

Offers To Give Up A-Bomb

He reminded the newcomers Democratic congressmen that the United States has offered to give up the atomic bomb, "the greatest weapon in history" if effective controls for atomic energy for the benefit of mankind can be agreed upon.

He said no monarchy or totalitarian country would have "offered surrender" of such a weapon.

He said that it was a terrible decision he had to make in July, 1945, when he ordered the dropping of the bomb on Japanese cities, but that he did so because the welfare not only of American fighters, but that of the world was at stake.

He expressed belief the decision saved the lives of 200,000 young Americans and from 300,000 to 400,000 of the enemy.

Chicago Ends Army Day Celebrations With Night Parade

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—A night parade down State street was the closing event of Chicago's Army Day celebration.

Some 25,000 members of military, veteran and patriotic organizations were mustered for the march. The spectacle was enlivened by mock bombing runs of national guard planes, illuminated by powerful searchlights as they roared over the loop.

The parade order included 17 bands and massed colors of 400 Cook county veterans organizations. Six thousand Chicago guardsmen were in the van, displaying tanks, artillery and anti-aircraft pieces.

At an Army Day luncheon, Kenneth C. Royall, secretary of the army, described the present-day army as the "best in American history, bar none," and declared adequate military strength is "the greatest single guarantee against war."

Charge Mail Clerk With Letter Theft

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—William G. Rickey, 53, of Linden, Ind., was ordered held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond today on a charge of stealing from the mails.

Rickey, a railroad mail clerk, was assigned to the Chicago to Louisville run on the Monon railroad.

James P. Piragline, assistant U. S. attorney, said Rickey told him he obtained between $200 and $300 in cash from the letters. The envelopes, Piragline said, were addressed to the Franciscan Missioners at Mount St. Francis, Ind.

A LOSS TO THE COMMUNITY

When the news of the death of Fred W. Brockhouse, former County Clerk, was published Tuesday afternoon, we overheard many spontaneous tributes to his character and life. Typifying the widespread respect for him, one veteran public official remarked, "I never heard anyone ever say a thing against Fred Brockhouse."

Although he took an active part in politics and served as a county official for 25 years, he was highly regarded not only by the members of his own party but by those of opposite political affiliation as well. His devotion to his work, his ability and his unimpeachable integrity were universally recognized. All Morgan county mourns the passing of a true public servant.

THE MOOD HAS CHANGED

The president of the New York Curb Exchange deplores this country's present "worship of safety." The pursuit of security, he says, is piling up money in savings banks and hampering insurance companies' chances and choices of investment.

Perhaps this is a good illustration of the contrast between the boom and bust of the Twenties and the boom and bust which some economists say still threaten us today. As we recall it, the stock brokers didn't have to urge people to take their money out of savings and play the market back in '29.

FILIBUSTER 'VICTORY'

(Ralph McGill in the Atlanta Constitution)
Infuriated by the exaggerated and often false barbs of the abolitionist movement, the south defiantly hugged the institution of slavery to its breast and made it "the keystone of the arch" of their confederacy.

One of the things which worries me most today, as a southerner, is that in the filibuster in the senate we were again jockeyed into an almost identical position.

We defended what undoubtedly is a necessary factor in our system—the right of a minority to have enough power to limit a majority. We have seen that all absolute and unlimited power is dangerous — whether it be the power of a Hitler or a Stalin or a steamroller majority in a city council, a legislature, or a congress.

But the fight was on civil rights, and the nation and the observing world, including the Russians, are witnessing what to them appears to have been a refusal of southern congressmen to consider at all the problem of civil and human rights. That is an unhappy and fatal situation.

Though the south has won the filibuster, the issue will remain. It will come back again and again until at last it is won, and when that happens common sense will go out the window and punitive, radical measures will be enacted which even their makers later will regret. We may lose even that right of the minority to limit the majority.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Varicose Veins Present Problem To Many People

By Edwin F. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Varicose veins and varicose ulcers present a problem to many people as they grow older. Varicose veins do not produce pain or discomfort unless they are inflamed, but such veins are more likely to be inflamed than normal ones.

Everyone is born with folds or valves in the veins which carry the flow of blood upward. These valves prevent the blood from falling back and help to hold up the column of blood. They are especially important in the legs where the pressure of the blood in the veins is heavy because human beings stand upright. Over the years the pressure on the valves in the veins of the legs is great and they are often broken down. When this happens the necessary support is lessened and the vein becomes swollen. Such swollen vessels, mostly near the surface, are called varicose veins.

ULCERS COMMON
Those who have varicose veins are more likely to have swollen feet or ankles than those with normal veins. Also the poor circulation brought about by varicose veins can produce surface ulcers. These ulcers sometimes become enormous, causing destruction of the skin and large open sores.

The use of elastic bandages which support the widened and enlarged varicose veins is, of course, an old remedy, and helpful in many cases. Varicose veins are sometimes removed by surgery. The use of injections for varicose veins has also been popular but now surgery is again being used more and more.

The treatment of varicose ulcers is still difficult although several methods are being used with success. Probably the most important thing to do is to prevent serious swelling or ulcers by not neglecting varicose veins in the initial stages.

Founder's Day To Be Marked Sunday By Rainbow Girls

The Order of Rainbow for Girls will observe founder's day on Sunday, April 10, by attending church in a body. The girls are asked to meet in front of Central Christian church at 10:30 a.m. on that day.

Plans for the event were made Tuesday evening at the regular meeting held at the Masonic Temple. Plans were also discussed for the annual officers visit of the state grand officers on April 19. A banquet will be held in the Masonic Temple at 6 p.m., after which a class will be initiated.

Distinguished guests will include Miss Peggy Miller of East St. Louis, grand worthy adviser, and her corps of officers. Miss Marilyn Cruse of this city is grand confidential observer.

At their meeting Tuesday, the girls practiced for the Rodehouse initiation. Additional practice will take place at the temple Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

CIRCLE WILL MEET

The Jacksonville Teachers Reading Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Eva Daniel, 206 Caldwell street, on Friday evening, April 8th.

If homemade doughnuts are greasy after they have been deep-fat fried, the chances are that the fat in which they were cooked was not hot enough.

Coach Harry Combes Of U. Of I. To Speak At Kiwanis Dinner

Coach Harry Combes of the University of Illinois, who coached the Illini to a Western Conference basketball title this season, will speak to members of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club and invited guests at a dinner Thursday noon at the Dunlap hotel.

The man who directed the efforts of Dike Edelman, Bill Erickson, and other U. of I. stars on the basketball court, will tell a lot about basketball at Urbana and in Big Nine circles. His presence will be one of the program features of the year in the Kiwanis club.

Combes, a former U. of I. basketball star in his own right, brought the Illini a conference championship in his second year as head coach of his alma mater. After coaching Champaign high school with outstanding success for ten years, Combes succeeded Doug Mills at the university last season.

During his first year he coached the Illini to third place in the Big Nine, with an overall season record of 15 wins, 5 defeats in 1948, then came back with a championship crew this year.

Coach Combes' two-year collegiate record now stands at 34 victories, 8 losses, including an impressive 19-3 mark this season.

Now 34 years old, and a native of Monticello, Ill., Combes was graduated from Illinois in 1937, and immediately joined Champaign high school's staff as assistant in basketball and football, and head baseball

COACH HARRY COMBES

Develops New Lineup

Last year Combes' first Illinois team won 7, lost 5 in the Big Nine, and had eight wins without loss in non-league games, in a year when he had to mould a new club to replace the famed Whiz Kids. In 1948 the Illini rolled up more points than any Illinois team ever scored in a 20-game campaign, 1234. This year's club dwarfed that mark with a new Illinois record of 1386 points in its first 20 games of the campaign, and for 22 games played this season the Illini totaled 1530 points.

While attending the U. of I., Combes won the conference medal for proficiency in athletics and scholarship in his senior year, and was awarded the Ralph Woods Memorial trophy for the highest per centage of free throws made by an Illinois player in conference games in 1937.

MOOSE AUXILIARY HOLDS MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

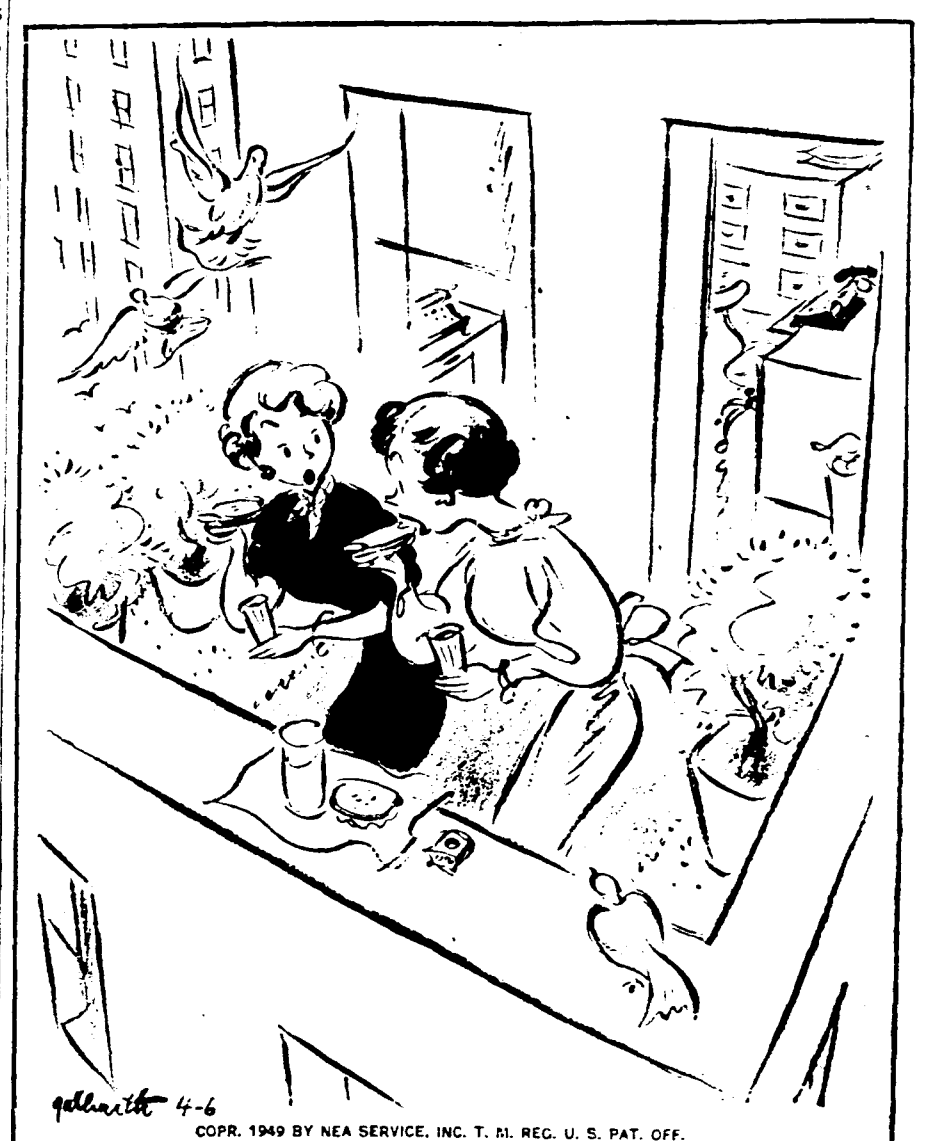

The regular meeting of Chapter 1097 of the Moose Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening at the Moose hall. Guests for the evening were the senior regent, junior regent and recorder of the Springfield chapter.

Plans were made for an initiation class on April 19 and for a rummage sale on April 9.

A pot luck supper followed by bunco will be held on Tuesday evening, April 12, at 6:30 o'clock at the Moose hall.

Mark Rutherford, a leading layman from Oklahoma City and assistant to the national director of laymen's work among the Disciples of Christ churches, will be the guest speaker. Entertainment will be provided by Miss Sally Rhodes, soloist, and Miss Evelyn Haas, pianist. Both young ladies are students at MacMurray College.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

COPYRIGHT BY GREENING PUBLISHERS
DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Roger has returned to live with the Roberts after winning lieutenant's bars at officer training school. In spite of the attempts of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts to live somewhere else, Roger wants to continue living in their home. To celebrate his return he invites Mr. and Mrs. Roberts to the Officers Club at the airport and promptly turns over their sedan to a snowbank. Roger says he'll have the motor pool pull it out.

XV

BUT the motor pool had other plans; it didn't get around to pulling the car out by the time we were ready to go home. Roger had words with the sergeant on duty. The best the sergeant could do at the moment would be to send a "recon" to take us home. Roger perished the thought that he should accompany us and leave our car alone at the mercy of the mechanics. He would stay and personally see that it was righted, and drive it home himself. It was a gorgeous moonlit night, and if there is one thing above another to be said for Montana, it is that the visibility is good. In Montana, one can see farther and see less than anywhere in the world; Blind Ed with his cane could have found the turnoff from the army road to the highway. But not Roger.

I must have been asleep for several hours when there was a tap on my door. Roger wished to speak to me. "Come in," I said, squeezing my eyes tightly shut and hoping not to be very much waked up.

"I've had a slight accident," he said. My eyes popped open. Roger held up a bloody handkerchief as evidence. "My nose," he explained. "I missed the turn onto the highway. Hit a post head on."

I was tempted to say "How could you?" but that would have been verbose. I settled for "Where is the car?"

"On the road," he replied, openly amazed at the stupidity of my question. "A passing motorist brought me home."

"The army road comes to a dead end as it joins the highway. I had a mental picture of a large sedan broadside to the Helena Road. The Highway Patrol had a physical picture of the same thing. They called to tell me about it.

By the time I told Rob the story next morning, I could also add that the radiator was bent in a perfect V for Victory, that both headlights were gone, both front fenders smashed, and that the cylinder head was probably cracked. It would take six months, if we were lucky, to get the necessary parts to repair the damage.

"Why, you—your crazy galoot, you!" Rob exploded at Roger. "You—your big palooka, you." I was astonished at the moderation with which he dealt with Roger. For a moment I thought the shock had been too much for him. "Haven't you insurance?" Roger asked in his voice of sweet reasonableness.

"Insurance?" Rob bellowed. "Why, you fool, do you think I'd ask an insurance company to stand a loss like this? I'd rather hold 'em up with a gun. I'll tell you who'll pay for this, you ninny. You'll pay half and I'll pay half. That's who'll pay for it. Maybe that'll teach you something about automobiles. And it'll teach me not to be such a blamed idiot as ever to let you handle a car of mine again. (It didn't.) Insurance!" he spat out.

Robbie got the idea that maybe we didn't need Roger to make our life complete. "Get rid of him," he said next morning. "Tell him to move. We don't want him."

"But the OPA doesn't operate that way."

"The OPA? Now what have they got to do with it?"

"The OPA won't let you make a tenant move unless he's guilty of moral turpitude, doesn't pay his rent, or you're going entirely out of business."

"That's it!" Rob exclaimed. "We're having a fire sale. We're going outta business."

I won't say Roger listened at keyholes, but I will say that every time we got out the ax and began to put an edge on it, he turned over a new leaf instead of a car. Monday a large box of red roses arrived for me with a card: "Words are too feeble a thing to express my gratitude to you for your ever gracious hospitality. May these buds speak for me in their more beautiful language—Roger." That wasn't a good day to show him the gate. He arrived home bearing three thick steaks which he had wheeled from the chef at the Officers' Club. Definitely, that was not the night to boot him.

SATURDAY night, Robbie and I were invited to a dinner in town and Roger was going to the Club. Roger admired my new dinner gown extravagantly—the ladies were dressing though the gentlemen were not—and insisted I tell him our hosts' telephone number.

Roger kept calling to inquire whether I were having a good time, whether I wouldn't enjoy more joining him at the Club for the dance. Each time I was called to the phone, I gravitated nearer and nearer to sweet 16. The third time he called, my mind was made up; Rob had refused to play poker and I'd been conscripted while he caught up on his rest. I know nothing about poker and care less.

I gave Rob the look of the cat-about-to-eat-the-canary as I slid past his recumbent form, so comfortable on a davenport. My look must have carried weight, for he quickly opened his eyes.

I tried to make wifely signals to let him know I was leaving and that so far as our hostess knew, it was because of a terrific headache brought on by concentration on poker.

I gave him the family look. Every word dripping with icicles, I asked, "Are you coming?"

"Not by a damn sight. It's the shank of the evening. . . . Think I'll play a little piano."

"Then I'll go alone," I said.

No sooner had I got in the car, turned on the switch and the lights, than our hostess called from the front porch, "Rob's coming."

See the new DESOTO before you decide on any other car at any price!

Compare the others with "The Car Designed with YOU in Mind"

You cannot compare the new cars merely by looking at pictures... or by watching them on the highway. You've got to get behind the wheel yourself.

That's why we urge you to come and see this new De Soto before you decide on any other car.

You notice the difference right away. De Soto's doors are wide. You walk in... and keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. You're on chair-high seats, so that you get all the benefit of the larger windows and windshield.

You've got full stretch-out leg room, front and back. And you've got more luggage space in that flush-floor trunk than you ever dreamed of before. Yes, De Soto is lower. It's got a longer wheelbase (all passengers ride between the axles). But there's no penalty for these advantages. Overall length and breadth are not increased. You needn't rebuild your garage. You can still change a tire. And a dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job.

Let us show you all the new features of the car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it for beauty, comfort, safety and value. Then decide.

How Youth Is Lost— And Something Gained

By Hal Boyle

New York—(P)—It is something to see a girl of 19 turn into a young lady in ten minutes.

Only one thing can cause that—a sudden realization on her part that there is more to life than she has known.

I had a small part in such a drama the other day. Frances and I helped a neighbor girl over one of those emotional hurdles by which people grow up.

It was something to remember. And for us the experience held a little bonus of gladness, merely because we were there in a strange experience of terror and beauty to the girl—and shared it with her.

I was waiting on the sidewalk in midtown when the cab rolled up with Frances and our neighbors. Neither reached for her purse to pay the hackle—what woman does when a man's handy to carry out his chief privilege?—So I forked over the cash. The cabby winked at the girl, and got a blank look back.

We walked together into the big building—two ladies and a watch-cog. The girl put her hand in mine and gave me a small smile of confidence. She had led a sheltered life. If she suspected the ordeal ahead, she gave no sign.

Felt Murder Was A Possibility
As quickly as possible we moved by elevator to the fifth floor. We came into a room full of strange furniture and men in strange cloaks.

A sudden cloud of doubt sailed across the girl's face. My heart sank a little, too, for I wasn't sure just what lay ahead either. The whole mission might have been abandoned right then except for Frances. Women always have the courage in an emergency.

"Don't be afraid," said Frances. "Come on. The way you two look you'd think somebody was going to be murdered."

Well, I felt murder was a possibility—if anything happened to that girl.

The next moment she was seated in a chair, and one of the strange men was coming at her with a sharp instrument. The girl looked tensely ahead of her—and saw her own tense face staring back from a mirror.

Nina, our godchild, at the ripe old age of 19 months was about to get her first department store haircut. As the scissors snipped off a bright blonde lock her face wrinkled and she let out a cry—the immortal feminine wail over loss.

Immediately a small boy, freshly clipped, ran over.

She Gives Him A Smile
"She probably thinks it's a bug crawling up the back of her neck and going to bite her," he said gravely.

Nina looked down at him. The tears stopped at once, and she gave him the smile with which Cleopatra imprisoned Mark Anthony.

We blew up a balloon for Nina and that captivated her. The work went swiftly—snip, snip—and the blonde treasure gave the floor a golden glitter.

When the ordeal was over, Nina looked at the barber's labors in the glass and found them good. She laughed. She flirted with the mirror.

She swaggered like a tumbler when we took her to the toy floor. She first settled on a fuzzy stuffed kitten, then, womanlike, switched to a velvety bunny.

I put the girls back into a cab, and Nina waved me goodbye like a Czarina dismissing an old lackey. That night she tossed out Pinky, her faithful elephant, and went to sleep hugging her new rabbit.

In one day Nina had won a boy's heart, had her first haircut and abandoned an old toy. She would never be so young again. And neither would her godfather.

U. S. TEACHERS UNPAID IN JAPAN

Tokyo—(P)—Occupation personnel and dependents may give free lessons in oral English in Japanese schools, but must get military government approvals to address parent-teachers associations or other Japanese educational organizations, the military government has decided.

Payment of any kind for teaching is forbidden, and it is recommended that no gifts be accepted, "even of small value."

Spring's 1949 Look For Men:

You'll Be More 'Dressed-Up,' But The Trend Is Also A Casual One

FEMININE INFLUENCE on the 1949 male wardrobe calls for the dressed-up look with a casual air. It includes the nation's top seller among topcoats—a lightweight gabardine (center) in medium tan, with modified square shoulders, peaked lapels and fly front. On the campus, slacks have a crease these days and are worn with a conservative jacket (left), but the small tweed cap is a new touch. For summer, tropical worsted (right) suits are conservative, but still informal.

By NEA Service

New York—(NEA)—Spring is going to put a more dressed-up look on the American male this year.

That's what the men's clothing experts predict, and they say it's because of a new style consciousness that's been growing among the nation's males since the end of the war.

The pace is being set by the younger men. For the past six months or so, father has quit buying clothes, but the business among the younger generation is thriving, the industry reports.

The dressed-up look will not be a formal one. The trend is toward windup-pane plaids, chalk stripes, shepherd's checks, soft flannels, bright blues and chocolate browns.

It marks a sharp contrast to conditions six months ago, according to the Wool Bureau, which represents world wool interests. Then the accent was on honest, quiet patterns and colors and trim lines.

Because women influence the purchase of 80 per cent of the clothes bought by men under 40, the experts feel the distaff side is responsible for the new clothes consciousness. Another factor may be the youngest generation's military experience, and the belief that the kind of clothes men wear has an influence on their success.

The well-dressed look is extending to college campuses today. There the informality is a good deal more casual than among young businessmen, but the traditional dark flannel slacks have a crease, and jackets are conservative.

On the campus, they're adding a new note—the small tweed cap.

The cap is not expected to be copied by the office-bound young man for every-day wear, but along with his less formal wardrobe, he's beginning to carry the tightly furled umbrella that used to be a badge of the ultra-conservative.

And along with this paradox of dressed-up informality, some style experts foresee the comeback of the starched collar and the walking stick.

Sixty Planes In Air Show Sunday At Springfield

The 170th Fighter Squadron of the Illinois Air National Guard will present an air show at Capital Airport, Springfield, Ill., on Sunday afternoon, April 10 from 2 to 4 p. m. The show will be presented in connection with the open house being held on April 9 and 10 by that organization in honor of Army Week.

The air show will include 60 aircraft, both fighters and bomber types, of the 71st Fighter Wing of the Missouri Air National Guard and the 66th Fighter Wing of the Illinois Air National Guard. Formations of both types of aircraft will fly in aerial review over the airport, and the 189th Fighter Squadron of Peoria will give a demonstration of aerial acrobatics. Governor Adlai Stevenson, along with other military and civilian dignitaries, has been invited to speak on this occasion.

Capt. Ralph Eads, commanding officer, announced that the public is cordially invited to both the open house and the air show.

Remove Rent Ceilings In County Except For Jacksonville, Suburbs

Washington, April 6—(AP)—Federal rent ceilings were removed today from more dwellings in Illinois.

Housing Expediter Tighe Woods accompanied the newest decontrol announcement with the same stern warning against rent gouging he voiced when ceilings in other areas were lifted by two previous actions.

Ceilings will be slapped on again in any or all of the areas, he stated, "if removing controls results in unreasonable rent increases." He has power to order such action under the 15-month extension of the rental housing act passed last week by congress.

Areas in Illinois covered by the new decontrols are: 2,076 units in Morgan county (except Jacksonville and South Jacksonville); Jefferson county (except Mt. Vernon); Coles county (except Mattoon and Charleston); and Logan county.

Helen E. Bartlett Dies At Woodstock

Word of the death of Mrs. Helen Eckert Bartlett at her home in Woodstock, Ill., on April 5 has been received here by Mrs. G. B. Andre.

Mrs. Bartlett was a kindergarten teacher at the Illinois School for the Blind a number of years ago. She had many friends in Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at Woodstock.

Wilsonmen Launch 1949 Baseball Debut At Perry This P.M.

With eight lettermen returning from last year's nine, Spike Wilson reports that I.S.D. is looking for a successful season on the diamond this Spring.

In announcing the 1949 baseball schedule, the Tiger mentor reported that, although he does have a returning letterman in practically every spot on the field, the jobs are proved to be slightly scatter-in the I.H.S. fray, boasts two turning vets, Raffel and Hood, w newcomers Hudjukowicz

Paul, have been added to the w enders mound staff.

Wilson reports that the infield not set, but he hopes to find best combo in today's bout at Pe
Nunes, although a letterman by no means cinched and every boy is going to have to fight to keep his spikes resting on his favorite position. In Monday's practice bout with the local high school, which the Tigers dropped 12 to 2, Wilson shifted his players around considerably, and further indicated that he plans to do the same thing against Perry this afternoon.

Pitchers Are Wild
The pitching department, which season, is receiving a lot of competition from Franco, a sophomore for the keystone slot. First base is another hotly contested spot, with freshman West and Hood, who also a pitching candidate fighting out. Billy Yates and Leo C. basketball stars, are apparently established in the third base shortstop niches.

2 Outfield Spots Set
The outer pasture appears to be little more firmly set, with two of three spots ably held down. Men will patrol center field, and Lani will start in left. Carlsted

Pitcher Head Sues

Insurance Firm Over Sore Arm

Monroe, La., April 6—(P)—Ed Head, former Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, is suing an insurance firm for $18,000 over a sore arm.

The West Monroe, La., resident now manages the Asheville, N. C., baseball club of the tri-state loop.

He filed suit in district civil court here yesterday. The man who once hurled a no-hit, no-run game for the inside track on the right field job, but he's being given a run by Paul and Lieberg, who lack the larger lads hitting power.

Kwiat will definitely be behind the plate in today's season's opener with Tuchman doing any necessary relief work.

As a parting shot, Wilson reminded us that if last year's new weak stick work, can be overcome his outfit is going to be a strong contender for the P.M.B.C. baseball crown this season.

The I.S.D. schedule:
April 7—At Perry

the Dodgers, claims he received a $9,000 professional baseball players policy in 1946 from the Massachusetts Indemnity Insurance Co. of Boston.

Head said that after he developed his sore arm, "it became apparent" during 1947 spring training he had not regained effectiveness as a pitcher.

More than 30 days elapsed since due notice and proof of his claim was made, without receiving payment from the defendant, he said.

He is asking double indemnity because of the delay, he added, under terms of act 310 of the Louisiana legislature.

Dallas, Texas, April 6—(P)—The Chicago Cubs cut loose with a seven-run barrage off Pitcher Cliff Fanning in the seventh inning today to give them a 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Browns. The cars collided north of Carrollton on Route 67 and the Edwards car was pinned against the embankment and Edwards sustained fatal injuries. ## Mailman Delivers $1,000,000 Jewel Collection In N.Y.

New York, April 6—(P)—A mailman stepped from a heavily-guarded armored truck today with a small, paper-wrapped package. Marrying through lines of policemen he handed it to Manhattan Jeweler Harry Winston.

Winston opened the package and took out a rare jewel collection valued at more than $1,000,000. This began a new chapter in the long, tragic story of the Hope Diamond.

The diamond was part of the collection Winston purchased from the estate of the late Evelyn Walsh McLean, prominent Washington society leader.

Scoffing at the Hope Diamond's legend of tragedy, Winston said: "It's childish to suppose that diamonds themselves exert any influence for good or evil. It's not the diamonds themselves that cause misfortune, but the people who handle them."

It cost $159,870 to send the collection by mail from Washington to New York at an insured value of $1,000,000. The Hope Diamond and its counterpart, the star of the east, a part of the collection, are insured by Lloyd's for $1,600,000.

Surprise Witness Says Reds Planned Overthrow Of U.S.

New York, April 6—(P)—The government produced a surprise witness at the Communist conspiracy trial today. He was a Massachusetts advertising man who said that for years he has funneled information to the F.B.I. from within the Communist party ranks.

The witness, Herbert A. Philbrick, 33, of Melrose, Mass., testified that in a Communist teacher-training class which he attended in Boston the world revolution was defined as: "Violent revolution to be carried out by bands of armed workers against the existing state government."

The training class, he said, was part of a new campaign under the revived Communist party in 1945. The government contends the reorganized party launched in that year a drive designed to culminate in setting up a proletarian dictatorship in the U. S.

Pupils To Give I. S. B. Centennial Play Today

In commemoration of the school's centennial, students of the Illinois School for the Blind will present a play in the auditorium at 10:20 a.m. today. The three-act play, "A School is Born," was written and directed by Ronald MacLean, the high school dramatic coach. The three scenes depict historical events on March 22, April 7 and July 2, 1849.

The public is invited to attend this opening event on the centennial program.

On Jan. 13, 1849, Gov. Augustus C. French signed "An Act to Establish the Illinois Institution for the Education of the Blind." Judge William Thomas was the author of the bill and Richard Yates, Sr., who later became governor of Illinois, sponsored the bill in its passage through the legislature.

The first board of trustees consisted of five members, all of whom were Morgan county men: Judge Samuel D. Lockwood, president; James Dunlap, Dennis Rockwell, treasurer, W. W. Happy, and Samuel Hunt. Judge James Berdan served as secretary of the board, and Samuel Bacon, principal of the institution, as member ex officio.

Board Organized
The board organized on Feb. 3, 1849, and selected Mansion House, which belonged to James Dunlap, as the first home for the institution. Mansion House was on Mound Avenue, west of Illinois College about three blocks. The site is now known as Pinner Place.

Prior to this, Samuel Bacon had taught four pupils privately in a building known as the McConnell property on North Main street near the Wabash station. This school had been financed by public spirited citizens of Jacksonville. These citizens had subscribed about $400 to aid Mr. Bacon who had come to Illinois in 1848 with the avowed purpose of educating blind adults and children.

Mr. Bacon, himself blind, arrived in Jacksonville from the Ohio school with the expectation of finding such a school started—his informant having mistakenly assumed that the new building at the "Asylum for the Insane" was a school for the blind.

But Mr. Bacon's enthusiasm and the wisdom of Morgan County's citizens soon made his vision a reality. Cast of Players

The characters are: Mr. Samuel Bacon, principal, Jerry Garafolo; Miss Sarah Graves, Rose Dent; Mrs. Sarah Graves, matron, Wanda Siskora; Samuel D. Lockwood, president of board of trustees, Allan Rupel; W. W. Happy, Elmore Jeffries; Samuel Hunt, Walter Burmeister.

Three of the living charter members of the chapter were present and filled stations. They are Mesdames Mary E. Burrus, Emma Thompson and Lena Korte.

Mrs. Ira Maxie of Griggsville, grand lecturer, was guest of honor for the evening. Mrs. Canatsey of Jacksonville is a past matron of the chapter and enjoyed seeing friends in Bluffs.
